Seizing Holy Opportunities

In Holy Moments, Matthew Kelly discusses the world's need for more small (but sometimes large) instances of people caring for others, cultivating joy, encouragement and love instead of anger, envy, fear. Kelly defines a Holy Moment as "a single moment in which you open yourself to God. ... You set aside personal preference and self-interest, and for one moment you do what you prayerfully believe God is telling you to do."

This may mean mowing the lawn for a neighbor with a broken leg, praising a child on his artwork, buying a surprise snack for someone having a bad day, working extra shifts for a coworker with cancer so she can receive her full salary while out sick, paying for the next car's drive-thru order. Anyone can create a Holy Moment, because you don't need special skills, position or wealth. "If you want to see miracles, make yourself available to God," Kelly suggests.

He adds that God has a track record of collaborating with "the most unlikely people to make amazing things happen, and now He wants to collaborate with you." When we're open to God's leading, holy opportunities abound. And we will experience as much joy as the ones to whom we show care. -copied

A Note from the Children's Director

Another full summer is practically at our door, are you ready? Summer, for many, is a time for vacations, rest, relaxation and a much-needed break. While these things are good and important, we should never take a break from our relationship with God. It is so easy to fall into the trap of stepping away from church, especially in the summer.

Big baseball/softball tournament this weekend, totally exhausted, let's sleep in on Sunday, there's always next week. Sorry, we won't be there on Sunday, we'll be on vacation at the beach. Everyone gets busy, everyone gets tired but those are the moments when we should be running to our Father! It's true you can worship God from anywhere, but do you?

There are churches at all those vacation destinations and near the out-of-town tournaments. Make God a priority for you and set that example for your kids too! He loves you and desires to be with you in your exhaustion as well as your rest. Wherever this summer takes you make sure it doesn't take you away from the One who created you.

Rebecca
